Burglar suspect apprehended

On December 28, James Grey and his girlfriend Dorthena Harris were awakened by a noise and woke to find a man had broken into their apartment through a window.

The man threatened Mr. Grey and the police were called.

Patrolman Mark Hickman and Patrolman Martin Segura responded to the call and the suspected prowler was identified as a 17-year old juvenile.

Officer Hickman was handcuffing the suspect when the suspect hit Officer Hickman in the chest and then hit Officer Segura in the face.

He then fled on foot but was chased down by Patrolman Hickman at 425 S.W. Avenue D.

Patrolman Hickman was assisted in handcuffing the suspect by Sgt. Michael Johnson. Patrolman Hickman was then kicked in his right knee by the suspect according to police reports.

On the way to the police department, the suspect kicked and damaged both rear doors of the police car, according to police reports.

The 17 year old juvenile was charged with burglary of an occupied dwelling, two counts of battery on a police officer, two counts of criminal mischief and resisting arrest with violence.

The suspect was sent to the H.R.S. Detention Center in West Palm Beach.

Business burglary foiled by "Goliath"

On December 28th the Belle Glade Police were called in reference to a possible burglary in progress at Jo's Clothing, Inc. 551 S.W. 16th Street.

Arriving on the scene one minute after receiving the call, officers set up a perimeter blocking any attempt by an intruder to escape.

Patrolman Robert Wheelihan and his K-9 "Goliath" found and arrested the suspected burglar, Larry D. Coleman hiding in the ceiling according to police reports.

Mr. Coleman was charged with burglary and grand theft. He was held at the Palm Beach County Jail under a $1,000 bond.

Special meeting

Pahokee City Commissioners met in a special session Thursday at 5 p.m. to discuss paving the new addition to the Port Mayaca Cemetery.

Commissioners voted unanimously to go with Mondale Paving Co. for the job at an estimated cost of $23,016.15.

Commissioner Roy Singletary asked that a close eye be kept on the project to insure the paving was done properly. Permits have already been issued, and the city only has until January 15th to start the project with out going out for new permits.

Body found in canal at Gladeview

By Bill Phillips
Staff reporter

City employees cleaning up an area of recently cut trees on the bank of a canal across from Gladeview Elementary made a grisly discovery last Thursday. There was a body floating on the edge of the canal.

The Belle Glade Police were called and upon arrival they found the body of a black male had been discovered by city workers.

Further investigation revealed the body to be that of Lawrence Padgett. Mr. Padgett was reported missing by his family on December 30th.

Family members told police that Padgett was a non-swimmer and had failing eyesight. Investigation revealed the canal's bank to be very rocky and unstable. There was no evidence of foul play at the scene, according to police.

An autopsy was performed by the Palm Beach County Medical Examiners Office. At this writing, the cause of death had not been determined.

The investigation will continue upon completion of final autopsy results.

Mr. Padgett may have simply fallen down the bank of the canal and drowned, according to police reports.

Mr. Padgett was 78 years old and resided at 543 S.W. 14th Street in Belle Glade.

Cleaning up the mess....U.S. Sugar workers clean up an oil spill left by a van carrying stolen diesel fuel last Monday. U.S. Sugar Corp. is equipped to do this type of clean-up operation.

Man dies during theft of diesel fuel

By Bill Phillips
Staff reporter

One man was killed and another received minor back injuries when their van veered off a dirt road and into a culvert crossing section of the North New River Canal last Monday about 8 miles south of South Bay.

Killed in the accident was Jose Antonio Tapanes of 11971 S.W. 6th Street, Miami.

Armando Borges, age 34, the passenger, also of Miami was arrested by the F. H. P. for allegedly stealing diesel fuel from a United States Sugar pump station adjacent to where the van plunged into the canal.

In the back of the maroon van was a 500 gallon tank of diesel fuel. When the driver, Mr. Tapanes slammed on brakes to avoid the canal, he was pinned by the tank to the steering wheel and apparently drowned when the van toppled into the drainage ditch.

The tank in the back of the van allegedly was being used to steel diesel fuel from a U.S. Sugar pump station. The gasoline could be pumped from the U.S. Sugar tank into the tank that was in the back of the van.

The accident occurred at approximately 5:30 a.m. Monday. According to police the property is owned by the South Florida Water Management District.

Approximately 50 - 60 gallons of diesel fuel was spilled into the canal.

U.S. Sugar was called in to clean up the scene because officials did not have the equipment to do so according to U.S. Sugar Corp. officials in Clewiston.

According to Officer Dairret Beavers of the F.H.P., the diesel fuel in the back of the van was a direct match to the fuel contained in the tank that belonged to the pump station.

The match was possible due to a special dye that is placed in all of U.S. Sugars' fuel supplies.

The suspect will face charges of grand theft.

Police seek suspect in assault case

On December 11th, between 5:30 p.m. and 5:45 p.m. a Latin male entered a residence on Daisy Road off of Brown's Farm Road and assaulted a white female victim using an unknown type of knife.

The victim was able to free herself in the struggle and ran to get a gun, at which time the suspect fled from the house. No vehicle was seen or heard.

The suspect was described as a dark-complected Latin male approximately 40 years old. He was approximately 6 feet tall, stocky, muscular build with hairy arms. He was very clean and spoke English, but with a heavy Spanish accent.

The suspect wore a blue t-shirt, gray or green work pants, and white tennis shoes. He was armed with a 4 - 5 inch knife (type unknown).

An artist's drawing of the suspect is featured in this week's edition. The victim described the likeness as very close.

If you have any information as to the identity of the suspect please contact the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office at 996-1670. Ask for Detective Mike Fincannon.

ONE IN FOUR
A government survey showed that one out of four adults in the U.S. had no teeth, in one or both jaws. Of those who had natural teeth remaining, three out of four had signs of four bad signs of disease. Sounds like little attention is being paid to prevention.

If you go through life with your own teeth, it will be because of things you do. Dentists don't save teeth. People do.

THINK OF THIS: Nearly everything a dentist does is done for to repair breakdown. Repairs are necessary. But, doesn't it make more sense to get at the causes of breakdown so that you don't have to deal with the effects? Treating without preventing is like chasing untidying.

Expect the best. We're here to help you. We'll point the way to better oral hygiene!

Pahokee City Commissioners listen.....while the resignation - retirement motion is read into the minutes Tuesday night of Pahokee's Mayor Clark Hull Wilkinson.

Mayor to retire

At a special commission meeting called by Mayor Clark Hull Wilkinson, she retired as Pahokee's Mayor stating that her last day would be January 31st.

As the Mayor began to read her resignation, tears filled her eyes and she was unable to read the motion. She asked Vice-Mayor Ramon Horta to read it for her.

Although rumors have been flying for about a year now that the mayor of Pahokee might resign, these rumors were vehemently denied.

Prior to voting on the motion to accept her resignation, several commissioners spoke.

Commissioner John Normah said, "You have worked so hard, that you have literally worked yourself out of a job. No one will ever forget what you have done for this city and the progress we have made while you have been mayor. It has been a pleasure to work with you."

Commissioner Roy Singletary said, "When you came into this office, I was probably your biggest adversary. After working with you and talking with you, I found that you were extremely fair with the black community and always represented them fairly. It has been a real pleasure and a wonderful experience working with you. It has been one the highlights of my life."

Commissioner Carlene Walker said in a choked voice, "It simply breaks my heart to see you leave."

Vice-Mayor Ramon Horta said, "I just hope my feet are big enough or in your case, small enough to fill your shoes."

Pahokee's Mayor Clark Hull Wilkinson was born on a quiet little brick street in Plant City, Florida. On the 18th of September the mayor celebrated her 70th birthday and she said, "I'm thankful for each year."

Being the third daughter of Walter G. and Lois Hull, she was given her mothers' maiden name.

Mr. Hull, one of the Glades pioneers had started farming, growing beans in 1921, but even then, with travel conditions the way they were he would come home every weekend to be with his family.

In 1938, the whole family moved to Pahokee and have been there ever since.

Mrs. Wilkinson attended Florida Southern College in Lakeland and after she started working with her father, she attended the same school he attended earlier, Webb's Business School.

When my father retired in 1967, we had already started farming and ranching on our own. Red Devon Ranch was the name of our company," the mayor said.

No longer a ranch but continuing on with the name, she is now President and her son, Walter Wilkinson is Vice-President and Farm Manager. Her daughter, Anne, is Secretary-Treasurer.

"As you can see, my family is very actively involved in the business. In fact, Walter is a fourth generation farmer and I am sure his son, Brad, will probably follow in his footsteps. I have been blessed with four grandchildren, Michelle and Brad Wilkinson, and Kristen and Cameron Gay, Daughter-in-law, Julia Wilkinson and Son-in-law Robert Gay, she continued.

"We grow sugar cane, sweet corn, and leafy vegetables. In 1987, Mrs. Wilkinson was asked to run for Mayor, and never having been in politics, she didn't think anyone would vote for her.

"Several people approached me to run but the final decision came when someone I admire and respect asked me so I answered 'yes.'"

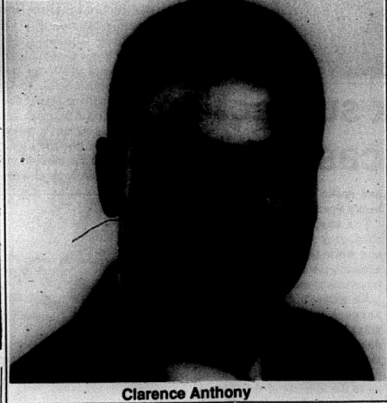

In 1987, she had an opponent but has had no opposition since. Her term would have expired in May of this year.

During her adult years she has been a past President of Junior Women's Club, President of both of her sororities in Belle Glade and Pahokee. Presently is a Trustee of the First United Methodist Church, on the board of Noah's Ark Day Care Center, President of Red Devon Ranch, Inc., and Mayor. She also belongs to several civic organizations.

Earlier this year the Wilkinsons were chosen by the Florida Farm Bureau as Farm Family of the year.

If the Mayors' father were alive he would probably say, "This is my daughter in whom I am extremely proud."

Mrs. Wilkinson said, "My life has been so full. I have thoroughly enjoyed being the Mayor of Pahokee and very proud of the support I have had. I love Pahokee and I will be there whenever called upon."

laws, rules and processes, make sure they're working the way the people want them to work, and recommend changes that may be needed as we head toward the 20th Century.

"I see this appointment a challenge to create growth management policies that encompass the needs of the people as well as municipal government. The growth management laws of the past have not considered the mandates of the cities nor the impact on the citizens. I intend to assure that those viewpoints are shared."

Mayor Anthony has a Master's Degree in growth management and has served in planning position at Treasure Coast Regional Planning Council and Palm Beach County. He also served on the County-Wide Planning Council.

"Victory is ours in Belle Glade Meat Market Boycott"

Let's shake on it...NAACP President Nate Edwards (right) and Belle Glade Meat Market owner Joaquin Guillen reach an agreement at a press conference Monday. Mr. Guillen has agreed to show respect to his customers. In exchange, the NAACP will stop picketing his business and tell customers to give Belle Glade Meat Market another chance.

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

With more than $10,000 in financial losses caused by a successful boycott organized by the Glades Area Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), Belle Glade Meat Market owner, Joaquin Guillen gave a public apology Monday morning for his disrespect to customers.

NAACP President Nate Edwards said it was his understanding the meat market thrives on the business of food stamp customers. And, according to complaints made to the NAACP, customers were treated discourteously, often refused service and complainants were cursed openly.

"This had to stop," said Mr. Edwards. If the owner and his employees cannot respect their customers, then they don't deserve their business. We will help customers understand that they have alternatives that will allow them to retain their self respect."

Mr. Edwards and Mr. Guillen held a press conference in front of the business located at 1417 N.W. Avenue L, Belle Glade.

"He says he will not treat his customers with disrespect again," said Mr. Edwards. "Should there be a problem in the future, we'll be back," he added.

Mr. Guillen, a Cuban American who speaks broken English, passed out a written apology to news media that said it was always his desire to have a harmonious relationship with all of his customers.

"I will strive to show the utmost respect of all who enters the Belle Glade Meat Market," he said in his statement.

He acknowledged in a meeting between Mr. Edwards and himself that the protest had cost him $10,000 in business over the two-day period.

"I just want to get back to business," Mr. Guillen said. "As you can see, business is already better."

Numerous complaints over the past few months were brought to the Glades NAACP concerning unfair and rude treatment of customers at the Belle Glade Meat Market according to Edwards, who added the treatment would not be tolerated.

The boycott began January 2 at the site and Mr. Edwards said there was a lot of support from passerbys as well as customers who refused to cross the picket line.

Mr. Edwards said they passed out a sheet to potential customers listing other meat markets in the Glades.

"One business contacted the NAACP and said they would give discount to anyone who would use his business," he said.

"This is a victory for the people of the Glades," said Mr. Edwards. Belle Glade will never be the same again. Thank God."

'The Meeting Place' designated as a voter registration site

Effective January 6, The Meeting Place, official headquarters of the Glades Area Branch N.A.A.C.P. became a permanent Voter Registration site in the City of Belle Glade. Located at 325 S. 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. - 2:30 p.m. Registration will be done by volunteers, who have been deputized for this purpose. "We are participating in this much needed service because so much hinges on voting" said Nate Edwards, president of the Glades Area Branch N.A.A.C.P. "We're offering the convenience of a community location and hours that accommodate working people," Edwards continued. "There are too many people that don't. And, our goal is to make sure they understand why voting is important, and to register at least 1000 voters before the next city elections."

Observant officer foils burglary attempt in South Bay

Sgt. Elisa Smith played it cool this week when she spotted a pair of white tennis shoes sticking out from under a semi trailer truck parked in the lot at the Okeechobee Inn. She drove on like she didn't see a thing.

"That was the right thing to do," said Police Chief Roy Humstead, "otherwise the man might have gotten away."

Chief Humstead said there have been a rash of burglaries in that area and officers have been patrolling.

What Sgt. Smith did do was call for back up and a perimeter was set up around the area. When the suspect, later identified as Alfred Dennard saw the officers he fled on foot into the field south of the truck parking area.

Officers Larry Colagiovanni and Michael Walker helped chase down the suspect who laid down in a field after Patrolman Walker yelled at him to do so.

Officer Smith said Dennard had CB radio wires hanging out of his jacket and he admitted he has just taken it out of a truck.

After investigating, officers found two trucks had been broken into.

One, a 1971 Peterbilt driven by Thomas Southers of Immokalee had been unlocked. An attempt has been made to take his Cobra 26LTD CB radio but the suspect said he was unable to get the radio out.

Another truck, a 1985 Freightliner, had the side vent window pried open and the passenger door unsecured. The CB radio had been removed.

Dennard, age 33, a transient with no known address was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail and charged with burglary of a conveyance.

Nobody was home when this mobile home caught fire Monday morning at Lot 113 in the 715 Mobile Home Park. Belle Glade firefighters arrived promptly on the scene and extinguished the fire. The home is owned by Valicia Benjamin. She is a paramedic and was at work at the time. She has seven children, five were in school and two were at a babysitters.

First Friday Films presents "Separate But Equal"

The Glades Area Branch N.A.A.C.P. will present "Separate But Equal" starring Sidney Portier and Burt Landcanster, the second in its series of "FIRST FRIDAY FILMS" on Friday, January 10 at 7:00 p.m. in The Meeting Place, 325 S. W. 4th Street, Belle Glade.

Originally scheduled for Friday January 3, the film was postponed due to the boycott of the Belle Glade Meat Market that took place January 2 and 3.

FIRST FRIDAY FILMS is a free film series offered to the

Belle Glade community as part of the Glades Area Branch N.A.A.C.P.'s "New Generation Leadership Project."

The films concern historic individuals and events of the Civil Rights struggle in America, and are designed to help individuals use their knowledge of historic achievements to deal with problems they encounter today.

"Separate But Equal" is the story of former Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall, who as a young N.A.A.C.P. lawyer in 1954, argued the "Brown vs. The Board of Education" case before the United States Supreme Court. This historic trial sought to remedy unequal spending for public taxpayer-supported education between segregated white and black schools. This case, in fact, led to the integration of public schools as the only solution at that time to equal education among the races.

The next film, to be aired on Friday, February 7, will be "Cry Freedom". For additional information please call 996-2161.

Guest commentary

By Roberto Rodriguez

Mr. Rodriguez is the assistant store manager for McCrory in the Glades Plaza. He grew up in the Glades, and has worked in the fields along with his family in the past.

Riots over sugar shortages have broken out in Moscow and officials said disturbances could multiply this winter as republics cut off supplies to the central government.

In October, "People broke the doors, and the police had to come to break it up. Eventually, some officials came with 100 more sacks of sugar to calm the crowd," an eyewitness said.

Living in the United States and especially living in the region in which we live, people forget the fact that we have a stable supply of sugar at a reasonable price.

In the Glades, sugar is our life blood and though the sugar companies come under close scrutiny constantly, they manage to keep producing sugar and holding the prices at reasonable levels.

Wouldn't it be great for our economy and Russia's if we could work out a deal to trade sugar for vodka? Their people would benefit from the sugar and ours from the jobs created by the new glass bottling plant it would take to bottle the vodka.

How about the box manufacturing company it would create to box the vodka and the jobs created to ship the product out of the Glades.

Then there is the advertising revenue created to sell the Russian Vodka in the states.

Imagine the processing plant it would take to process the vodka after it arrived here and the people who could work on the assembly lines and quality control lines to make sure the product is bottled properly.

Then, there are the truckers, packers, shippers, and retail outlets who would benefit from the sale of this vodka.

Some people might say "Liquor as an industry!" Well, I say, "If we don't take advantage of any opportunity, somebody else will. Lets work together and heal the Glades."

The trade in sugar could bring our economy up with some of the large northern cities.

Right now the opportunities are endless for the Glades if something like this could come about.

Let's hope our politicians don't put our sugar companies out of business by placing so many regulations on them that reasonably priced sugar is no longer reasonably priced in our own country.

It's time to stand up and be counted. Remember, Palm Beach County would not be the Palm Beach County it is today if not for the Sugar Industry and the Glades.

How about our vegetables? The Glades has been feeding the eastern United States for generations. Are we now to lose our farmers for cheaper vegetables imported from Mexico or South America? Let's keep the money home where it belongs. Remember, Mexico and other South of the Border Countries do not have the government restrictions placed on them that American farmers have. If we aren't careful, there is no telling what we will be eating in the next few years.

There has to be other ways to continue the Everglades clean-up without punishing our farming industry. Smaller farmers are just giving up. The same will happen to the large farmers soon.

When our economy is in the permanent toilet and we are eating poisoned vegetables from foreign countries, the AIDS epidemic will not be the largest problem in our country!

Fiesta De La Sagrada Familia

Esta es la gran celebracion de las familias cristianas. Los padres aprenden de Jose la vigilancia, la solidaridad, la diligencia. Las madres aprenden de Maria el amor, la modestia, la santidad, el amor al estudio y al trabajo. Todos debemos aprender de la Sagrada Familia la resignacion, el perdon la generosidad, el uso de la libertad y el sacrificio.

Doce años habían pasado desde el nacimiento de Jesus, transcurridos en la casa paterna de Nazareth, pobre casa y taller donde el martillo golpeaba y el serrucho chirriaba hasta la caída de la tarde.

"El Niño crecía y se robustecía" gozando de salud como debía ser el que habría de dar a los demás la salud con solo mirarlos o tocarlos con sus manos. Aquellas manos que curaban a los leprosos, guiarían a los duros de corazón, iluminarían la vista de los ciegos; resucitarían a los muertos. Aquellas manos amantísimas que derramarían su sangre redentora en el Madero.

Doce Pascuas habían transcurrido desde el nacimiento de Jesus. En aquella ocasión, cuando la Sagrada Familia, acompañada de sus afines, visitaba Jerusalem para celebrar la fiesta del "Pass over", notando Maria la ausencia del Niño, se dieron a su búsqueda desesperados, hasta que al tercer día lo encontraron en el Templo rodeado de los Doctores. Aquellos viejos hablaban con el Joven Jesus, de la Ley y de los Profetas y El respondía y a su vez preguntaba, dejándoles maravillados con sus respuestas y a veces confundidos con el alcance de sus preguntas.

Maria se quedó unos instantes paralizada por la alegría de haberlo encontrado. Acercándose a El, lo llamaba angustiada. Los viejos se apartaron y la Santísima Madre estrecho al hijo extraviado contra su pecho y una vez segura de haberlo recobrado, tuvo con El ese diálogo que se ha repetido tanto a través de los siglos:

—Por que nos has hecho eso? Mira que tu padre y yo, doloridos, andabamos en busca tuya. —Porque me buscabais? No sabiais que debo ocuparme de las cosas de mi padre?

Graves palabras, especialmente cuando las dice un niño de doce años a su madre, que ha padecido tres días por el.

Y ellos, prosigue el evangelista, no comprendieron lo que les había dicho.

...Pero no había llegado aun para Jesus la hora de la separación definitiva y así, La Sagrada Familia, Jesus, Jose y Maria, tomo de nuevo el camino de Nazareth.

Dress code in religion?

Hi, I live in Pahokee. What I'm calling about is that my children wanted to go to church badly, so I let them go to (a church) in Pahokee.

Well, the church seems to think that Jesus judges people on the way they dress. They told them they had to wear dresses, my girls, and to me Christianity is not the clothing you wear.

God is just happy that you are there to worship and I don't think it's fair that a church should try to dictate what people wear when they are going to worship God.

Editor's note: This Speak Out was edited to protect the name of the church and the caller while hopefully retaining the caller's message. Thank you for Speaking Out.

Don't forget coaches who came before Coach Casko

I'm calling about last week's Speak Out about the Glades Central football team. I'm calling to say that I'm very, very proud of the football team and their achievements.

I have only one thing to say. I do not think that Coach Casko is the sole reason for them being close to state champions.

The team already had the skills with them.

Let us not forget that before Coach Casko, their were other coaches.

Former mayor is still concerned about this community

I'm calling Speak Out because of Nate Edwards and his NAACP.

I've read in the guest editorial and all over the paper how the NAACP is disgusted with Tom Altman. I've only got a few things to say.

Tom Altman is a respectable man who has done a lot for our community. He only wants everybody to unite in the City of Belle Glade.

So give credit where credit is due! you don't have anything good to say about him, then don't say anything at all.

And, if you want Belle Glade to unite, then leave the local businesses alone. If you don't like the way the man at the meat market treats individuals, why do you keep going there?

That's what's wrong with our community now is people are too scared to stand up to an organization like the NAACP.

It bothers me to see an organization like the NAACP get paid for stirring up trouble in our community.

Letter to the editor

Former Glades resident fondly remembers old days in Belle Glade

Dear Editor:

Living over here, across the march from our HOME: Belle Glade, we couldn't survive without our subscription to THE SUN. Like the Jack Shafers, we miss Glades folks something awful!!!!

Reading about the Hollingsworths....the Averills...brings back the 50's era and memories of old friends who have gone on to be with the Lord. But all of them have left their love tracks...within our hearts...of their being a blessing in our hearts, even now.

Golden images etch back of Averill's Photography, of a handsome cost guardsmen turned photographer: Grant Averill and his cute little Dot...and their little girls, Margy, Jody, and Dolly bouncing in and out of the shop.

We school young 'uns loved em all. Back then, Mr. Averill shot the games, the year books...shot the whole town. That was a long time ago, before he started on his nature shots of shooting up, racoon, egrets with his camera...minus the bushes.

Talk about having a "One Man Show" ...Grant Averill could plaster the walls with a historical gallery showing with his 40 Plus years of Glades happenings. The weddings would be the icing on the cake. He snapped the grandmas, the mamas 'n the young 'uns. His photos outlasted lots of the marriages.

Well, he has no excuses now, he'd better hang us up a showing some where, now that he is semi-retired.

Talk about a town...being nervous...scared to death...that they'll see old photos of exes and such, but one thing for certain, usually waistlines and sassy figures existed back then...Grant's got the proof!

Fore sure folks are gonna miss them behind their shop counter on Avenue A. Ain't never gonna be the same, not ever, not having Grant and Dot on our street.

Still the shop is still there, with new friends ready to greet us, to serve us all the American Way!

Gone is Kahn's Department Store with its quiet little JOe, with clerks, Ginny, and Maribelle busily sorting Vanity Fair and scattered shoes.

Gone is dear George Scarborough, and Dot's Store. Old WSWN's Barn Dance with its D.J. "Teg" Eggleston's teasing jokes breaking us up.

Gone is Humber's Druggstore...and Doug Wooden, our town pharmacist, and Elsberry's Dentistry, and our beloved old doctors, John Buck, Dr. White, and Dr. Simmons.

Gone? Not quite...not as long as hearts love and remember (and hold) the love and laughter and glory they certainly left behind them.

U. S. Sugar Corporation resolves problems with Jamaican workers health and savings programs

The United States Sugar Corp. has reached an agreement with the Government of Jamaica to fix problems with health and savings plans of the Company's H-2A guest workers provided by a Jamaican agency, which were the subject of a recent congressional report and a U. S. General Accounting Office investigation, the Company announced today.

The federal reports had questioned the voluntary nature of the programs administered by the West Indies Central Labour Organization (WICLO) on behalf of approximately 8,000 Jamaican workers who come to Florida for five months each year to help harvest the sugar cane crop. Additional questions were raised about the disposition of premiums the workers pay for a health insurance program and the timely transfer of savings funds to workers' accounts.

J. Nelson Fairbanks, President of U. S. Sugar, said the Company approached the Jamaican government when the concerns were raised and the agreement signed yesterday addresses all if the issues. "Under our policy of openness, U. S. Sugar is pledged to fixing problems that arise," Fairbanks said. "Many people felt that the savings and health plans were problems. We believe we have fixed them."

Both the savings and health plans are administered by WICLO, which represents seasonal Caribbean laborers in the United States under the U. S. Department of Labor's H-2A program which allows workers to come to the United States from Caribbean countries under temporary visas.

U. S. Sugar employs Jamaican H-2A workers to hand-harvest sugar cane and has no financial interest in either the savings or health insurance program. Under the plans, workers may elect to have 23 per cent of their earnings deducted by the Company and deposited into savings accounts in Jamaica and/or two per cent deducted and remitted for health insurance coverage. (This coverage is in addition to Florida Workman's Compensation insurance which covers the workers for any injury on the job.)

Officials of U. S. Sugar have been negotiating with Jamaican government representatives for several months to fix problems which had been pointed out by the congressional staff report and GAO investigators.

In the new agreement, the government of Jamaica pledged to the Company that:

1. WICLO will give each worker a detailed description of participant benefits under the health program, which will be purchased through the U. S. Life Insurance Company. All funds must be spent solely on worker health benefits and administrative expenses, and WICLO will not receive any monies from the health program except for reasonable administrative fees.

In addition, U. S. Life will maintain audited statements of accounts, which will be available to workers. All non-occupational health care expenses incurred during the worker's contract period will be covered—other than the first visit to a physician—without a deductible or dollar limit.

2. Wiclo will send each of the Company's H-2A workers a letter revising the agreement between the Government of Jamaica and the workers by giving the workers a choice of whether or not to voluntarily sign up for one or both of the programs. In the past, to ensure the programs were voluntary, the Company asked workers to sign an Authorization after they arrived in the United States if they wanted to participate in the programs. Recently, however, the Company discovered that the Government had required workers to sign an agreement in Jamaica authorizing the deductions. Now, worker will be informed by the Government that they have the option of participating or declining. In the letter to workers the Jamaican Government will affirm the declining to elect the deductions will be no effect on whether the worker is permitted to participate in the H-2A program in the future. WICLO liaison officers will explain to H-2A employees the voluntary nature of the deductions.

3. Money will be transferred quickly from workers' savings accounts.

The Company said that beginning in early December 1991, it had been holding the savings and insurance deductions in interest bearing accounts on behalf of the workers, awaiting the agreement with the Jamaican government. Once the agreement is fully implemented by the Jamaican government, the Company will release the money to U.S. Life, WICLO's bank, or back to the workers, as appropriate.

Regarding health insurance, critics had charged that workers were not informed of their benefits. In addition, critics claimed that WICLO received and monies not spent on health benefits was being made. Questions also were raised about whether participation in both the savings and health insurance programs was truly voluntary. With regard to the savings were not promptly transferred for Jamaican government hands to worker's private accounts.

Edward "Michael" Eisey III

South Florida "Miracle baby" named March of Dimes National Ambassador

A five-year-old South Florida boy weighed less than two pounds when he was born 13 weeks early, has been selected as the 1992 National Ambassador for the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

Edward "Miracle" Eisey III of Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., has beaten many odds in his short lifetime. When he was born, in January, 1986, his chances of survival were dim because of his low birthweight. But today, Michael is a healthy, active youngster who began his new role with the March of Dimes by riding a float in the Tournament of Roses Parade on New Year's Day.

"Michael was born on January 11, 1986," said his mother, Mrs. Gail Eisey. "He weighed only one pound 11 ounces. My husband, Mike, and I thought it was quite a coincidence that his birth weight had the same numbers as his birthday."

Michael's success in struggling against the health problems associated with the low birthweight is representative of thousands of miracle children across the country. "Programs and treatments developed by the March of Dimes researches helped save Michael's life," said Jennifer Howse, Ph.D., March of Dimes President. "Michael was born too small and too soon. But he thrives today and reminds us all of the miracle of a healthy child. Sometimes those miracles need a little help."

When Michael was born at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach, he was so tiny that he was immediately put into a neonatal intensive care unit (NICU). In the 1960s and '70s, the March of Dimes spearheaded the development of NICUs which specialize in the treatment of infants born too small or very sick. The March of Dimes helped organize and contributed funds for a regional system of NICUs, making it possible for more infants at risk to be treated in technically units.

"A wonderful thing has come out of all the money spent by the March of Dimes to support programs and research," Mrs. Eisey said. "my son, Michael." The road to parenthood was a difficult one for Mike and Gail Eisey. Prior to Michael's birth, the Eiseys had a baby daughter delivered by an emergency caesarian 16 weeks early when Gail suffered severe seizures. Baby Erin weighed only 1 pound, 3 ounces at birth; she died three days later.

Mrs. Eisey was later diagnosed with Lupus Erythematosus, a disease of the immune system. Following her life-threatening pregnancy, like the passed before Gail became pregnant again and this pregnancy, like the first, was not without its problems, even with constant medical attention as part of her prenatal care. In her first month, Mrs. Eisey was hospitalized with hypertension and needed total rest. Still confined to bed in early January, her hopes for a full term pregnancy were dashed when she again suffered seizures. And as before, an emergency caesarian was performed.

"Because of my physical condition, the only chance of saving both me and the baby was to deliver the baby," Mrs. Eisey said. "We just couldn't wait."

In addition to riding on the Farmers Insurance group's float in the Tournament of Roses parade, Michael and his mother also appeared on ABC TV's "Good Morning America" program on December 27.

"Farmers Insurance Group was proud to have the 1992 March of Dimes National Ambassador ride on its float, 'Discovering America,' on New Year's Day," said Jeffrey Beyer, vice president of public relations for Farmers, a corporate sponsor for the March of Dimes WalkAmerica in Southern California. "Our float theme was certainly appropriate because during Michael's year as 1992 National Ambassador, he, too, will be discovering America."

As the 1992 March of Dimes National Ambassador, Michael will travel across the country, attending March of Dimes events, meeting volunteers, and appearing with celebrities and government officials to raise awareness of the March of Dimes mission.

1992 is the second consecutive year the March of Dimes has selected a now-healthy child, born at great risk of survival, to represent the organization. When the Foundation was at work seeking a cure for polio, its "poster child" was a polio victim. Today, as the March of Dimes works toward the goal of healthy birth for every baby, the Foundation is represented by a youngster who is healthy as a result of March of Dimes funded programs and research.

In addition to her new responsibilities as mother of the National Goodwill Ambassador, Gail Eisey has long been active as a volunteer with the South Florida Chapter. In 1991, she served as Chairperson of the Mothers March.

Her husband, E. Michael Eisey, Jr. is Vice President of Paul Hanna Management, Inc. of West Palm Beach. Her father-in-law is Dr. Edward M. Eisley, President of Palm Beach Community College.

HEADACHES

Also called sick headaches, a typical migraine attack, begins with a dull throbbing ache in one area of the head and progresses to a piercing pain. These tortuous attacks may be preceded by a change in the field of vision - a flickering before the eyes, flashes of light or a partial blocking of the vision. They are sometimes accompanied by nausea or vomiting. They are seldom relieved by aspirin. Their duration is from 2 to 48 hours.

Enter the beef cook off contest

If friends or family always praise your beef dishes, take note. Your favorite recipe might be worth more than $15,000.

All amateur chefs are invited to enter their original beef recipes in the 1992 National Beef Cook-Off*, for a chance to be named one of America's best beef cooks. The national competition, to be held Sept. 17-19 in Sacramento, Calif., has three categories -- Indoor, Outdoor Barbecue and Microwave. Top winners in each category will receive $5,000, with each of the three winning dishes also vying for the title "Best of Beef," which carries an additional $10,000 prize.

To be eligible for the national indoor competition, contestants from every state will advance to the National Beef Cook-Off's Indoor category competition. Seven regional winners in each of the other two categories will also compete in Sacramento.

In addition to the top national awards, $3,000 and $2,000 will be awarded to the second and third place contestants, respectively, in the Indoor category. Special $1,000 prizes are also awarded nationally to the best beef recipe under 300 calories per serving, the most convenient beef recipe and the best beef recipe that uses any cut from the chuck (excluding ground chuck). In all, more than $35,500 in cash and prizes will be awarded.

The National Beef Cook-Off* sponsored by the American National Cattle Women, Inc., in cooperation with Beef Industry Council and the Beef Board. Contestants must be at least 18 years old, with non-professional food status.

To enter the Cook-Off, send your original beef recipes, specifying the category, to: National Beef Cook-Off Entries, 444 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, IL 60611. Entries cannot be acknowledged or returned, and must be postmarked no later than March 1.
